

H!P OAT M!LK CHOCOLATE

James Cadbury, founder of H!P, inspired by his great-great-great Grandfather, John Cadbury, H!P launched in early 2021, with the aim of reinventing chocolate by replacing dairy with plant-based creamy oat milk.

H!P believes in making chocolate that is good to people and good for the planet, without compromising on flavor. That's why their vegan friendly oat milk chocolate is 100% ethically and sustainably sourced. Their chocolate is available in a range of exciting flavours and they make sure that everything is:
