	Conversion Chart 1 CUP Organic Cane Sugar ? 1 CUP Refined White Sugar
	Wholesome Fair Trade Organic Cane Sugar is made from certified organic sugar cane grown in South America. The cane juice, rich in molasses, vitamins and minerals, is squeezed from fresh sugar cane, evaporated and crystallized. The result is a blonde-colored, perfectly sweet natural sugar that will enhance your favorite coffee, tea, cereal or baked good. Organic sugar is naturally gluten free and can be used as a one-for-one replacement for refined white sugar. Wholesome! has a strong commitment to sustainable Non-GMO agriculture. In adherence with strict organic standards, the organic sugar cane fields are green cut and are not burned or treated with herbicides or synthetic fertilizers. This is better for the environment, which ultimately, is better for everyone. This also creates the highest quality, most delicious-tasting unrefined sugar you can find. No chemicals or animal by-products are used to make or decolorize this sugar making it ideal for vegans.

	Wholesome Fair Trade Organic Turbinado Raw Cane Sugar is a golden-colored raw cane sugar with large sparkling crystals and a rich aroma. Organic Turbinado is the ultimate crunchy topping for cakes, cookies, muffins, crumbles, pies, and crème brûlée. It makes a wonderful start to the day when sprinkled on cereal and oatmeal or when blended into fruit smoothies and cappuccino. Organic Turbinado is made by crushing the freshly-cut sugar cane to squeeze out the juice rich in vitamins and minerals. The cane juice is evaporated and spun in a turbine to produce the large sparkling golden crystals. No chemicals, bone char, or animal by-products are used to make or de-colorize this sugar making it ideal for vegans.

	Honey as it should be.... Straight from the hive, Wholesome Fair Trade Organic Honey is deliciously decadent, with a delightful butterscotch essence. Honeybees make this delightful multi-floral nectar in protected organic hives in Southern Mexico and Brazil. It is perfect for drizzling on warm biscuits, hard cheeses, or Greek yogurt. It easily blends into healthy salad dressings, protein shakes or fruit smoothies. We love it in soothing hot tea and morning coffee too. The beekeepers tend to their hives deep in the dedicated organic zones in the jungle including Fair Trade coffee plantations. The honeybees forage only on the wild jungle's natural wildflowers, far from any exposure to GMO's or pollutants. Beekeepers protect their hives as well as native plant forage areas to encourage biodiversity and help the forests thrive. Wholesome Fair Trade Organic Honey is free from chemical residue, as the plants surrounding the hives have not been sprayed with pesticides or herbicides and the hives have not been treated with antibiotics. This helps protect the health of the bees and beekeepers. With the increasing threat of declining bee populations due to heavy use of chemical pesticides, our beekeepers have committed to raising their bees and harvesting their honey in the most organic and sustainable ways possible. This means you get the best tasting and purest honey! In fact, we have some of the best honey in the world as voted on at the 2013 World Beekeeping Awards by International Congress of Apiculture.		$42.58	$12,007.56
